

Dewey by the numbers

The Dewey Decimal System is a way to keep items in order by subject. It helps you find what you are looking for! In this system, books are numbered, from 000 to 999, and every topic has a number. The more specific the topic, the more specific the number. For example, you can find nonfiction books about spiders in the 595.4s.

What a nightmare!

"Nightmares can be triggered by anything—something you have seen or experienced, a scary TV show, a horror story, computer game, or even just a shadow on the wall. If you keep having nightmares, see if you can speak to someone you trust. They may be able to help you discover what might be worrying you."

Hide and Don't Seek
By Anica Mrose Rissi
J FICTION RISSI
or J ebook

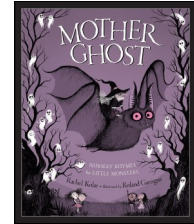

Dear Readers,
You can learn a lot from a scary short story. Here are three things I learned from the new book called Hide and Don't Seek:

1. If someone gives you a doll that looks exactly like you and is exactly the same size, leave it in the box.
2. If someone asks you to play hide and seek in a cornfield after midnight, maybe read a book instead.
3. Never ever complain about vampires to strangers.

As always, fangs for listening!

Uh oh!

Zombie Miss Muffet sat on a tuffet,
Eating her worms and dirt,
When along came a spider
Who sat down beside her—
And so she ate him for dessert.

Q: What do you call a pumpkin that watches over you?
A: A body-guard!

Q: What do you call someone with no body and no nose?
A: Nobody knows!

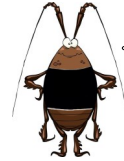

Q: Why do silent
frogs live forever?
A: Because they never croak!
